

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS - NEW COURSES 2019-20

MATHEMATICS

MATH 136 College Algebra HONORS DUAL-CREDIT 2ND SEMESTER

Transfer IN 3 Credits Prerequisite: Demonstrated competency through appropriate assessment or successful completion of MATH 100.

Presents an indepth study of functions, quadratic, polynomial, radical, and rational equations, radicals, complex numbers, systems of equations, rational fractions and exponential and logarithmic functions.

BUSINESS

ACCT 101 Financial Accounting HONORS DUAL-CREDIT 1ST SEMESTER

TransferIN 3 Credits Prerequisites: Demonstrated competency through appropriate assessment
Introduces the fundamental principles, techniques, and tools of financial accounting. The development and use of the basic financial statements pertaining to corporations both service and retail.

ACCT 102 Managerial Accounting HONORS DUAL-CREDIT 2ND SEMESTER

TransferIN 3 Credits Prerequisites: ACCT 101.

Emphasizes managerial accounting concepts, general versus cost accounting systems, cost behavior, cost-volume profit analysis, standard cost systems, responsibility accounting, incremental analysis, and capital investment analysis.

ENGLISH

ENGL 215 Rhetoric and Argument HONORS DUAL-CREDIT 2ND SEMESTER

3 Credits Prerequisites: A grade of "C" or better in: ENGL 111.

This advanced composition course emphasizes an inquiry-driven approach to research-based analytic and arumentative writing. Students will develop advanced analytical, researching, and writing skills by completing an extensive argumentative project.

1036 Genres of Literature: Science Fiction/Fantasy

This is course is a study of various literary genres, such as poetry, dramas, novels, short stories, biographies, journals, diaries, essays, and others. This course traces science-fiction, fantasy, and utopian thought from their roots in myth to modern concepts of technological man. The course will focus on sci-fi and fantasy as they reveal the social and psychological implications of the themes explored, with an emphasis on the opportunity for social criticism afforded in these genres.

ENGLISH continued

Young Adult Literature

This course is a study of the distinct features of young adult literature, such as narrative and fictional elements of setting, conflict, climax, and resolution, particularly characterized by young adult themes. Students examine literature whereby the characters are driven by distinct adolescent themes such as coming of age, rites of passage, and overcoming social adversity. Students analyze literature by various relevant and important authors or sets of novels concerning the plight of the adolescent.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Topics in Social Studies - American Foreign Policy Grades 10-12

This class is designed to connect historical American Foreign Policy with current events. We begin by examining America's power and influence in major world conflicts, such as WWI, WWII, the Korean War, Vietnam, Wars in Iraq, the Cold War, Arab-Israeli Conflict, and the War on Terror. We will look at past American policies and positions to help us understand America's current foreign policy.

Topics in Social Studies -Honors Civil Rights and Civil Liberties Grades 11 & 12

This class is designed to trace the development of civil rights and civil liberties in the United States. We will examine the Constitutional Law. Students will examine and discuss topics surrounding the application of the rights (freedom of speech, assembly, press, gun rights, voting rights, etc) throughout U.S. history and examine the movements and groups that fought for those rights. This is a seminar class and students are expected to engage in thoughtful and respectful discourse.

ECON 201 Principles of Macroeconomics HONORS DUAL-CREDIT 1ST SEMESTER

TransferIN 3 Credits (Prerequisites: ENGL 111 ?) Demonstrated competency through appropriate assessment.

A descriptive and analytical study of fundamental concepts of national economics. It includes an analysis of the determination and fluctuations in national income and employment, monetary and fiscal policy, and international trade and finance. Economic analysis of monetary and fiscal policies is stressed.

ECON 202 Principles of Microeconomics HONORS DUAL-CREDIT 2ND SEMESTER

TransferIN 3 Credits (Prerequisites: ENGL 111) Demonstrated competency through appropriate assessment

A descriptive and analytical study of the market economy and how it allocates resources. Emphasis is placed on consumer behavior, market structure, pricing, and distribution and determination of wealth and income.